

Monkey Mischief™ Calendar T-8340

★ Featured Display: Calendar Celebrations

Students will have fun practicing research skills while looking for special days each month. Provide some examples to get them started. Write each special day on a note pad sheet and display near the calendar. Write student names on banana accents. As students find new special days, they add them to the display along with their "banana names." When it's time to celebrate, ask each student to tell about the special day or event.
